

REOPENING YOUR RESTAURANT AFTER COVID-19: A CHECKLIST.

Reopening your restaurant is going to require a complete overhaul of your existing ways of operation, as you will not be able to return to how things were. Each business is unique in its operations, premises design and in their offering, so each one will face different challenges as we adapt to a new 'normal'.

This checklist is designed to be used as a guide and an example of some of the key areas you need to look at in your business as you implement new procedures to make your business COVID-secure. There is space for you to add further checks specific to your setting so that you can ensure a thorough assessment has been carried out.
